1. Applicant's arguments filed 11/24/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to claim 8, Applicant argues that claim 8 is patentable over the cited references. In response to the arguments, the examiner notes that Hull et al in view of Anderson discloses the same subject matter as discussed in paragraph 2 of the last Office action. It is noted that the allowed subject matter as discussed in claim 1 is not the same as of the subject matter cited in 8.

For the reasons, the rejection of claim 8 is repeated.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hull et al in view of Anderson.

With regard to claim 8, Hull et al discloses in Fig. 1, digital camera system that comprises image data memory apparatus (server 14, col. 2, line 19), memory section (server 14 includes storage 58), reduction image data forming means (CPU 52 compresses image data from the camera, col. 4, lines 30-35), transmission means (CPU 52 working in combination with modem 56 and network 16 transmits the compressed image data back to the camera memory, col. 4, lines 30-35), except that the reduction image data is a thumbnail.

Hull does not explicitly disclose any thumbnail image. However, Anderson teaches using an electronic camera that includes a computer 118 used to generates compressed image data and thumbnail data (col. 6, lines 7-15); where the thumbnail data is used to quickly display an image stored in memory 354. Noted that computer 118 can be separately connected to the image sensor 114 via bus 116 as shown in Figs. 2 and 3.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the CPU 52 of Hull et al as the same fashion as disclosed by Anderson so as to obtain a reduction image data forming circuit that generates a thumbnail image. This is because doing so would allow a user of a digital camera to quickly observe an image transmitted to a server.

3. Claims 1, 4-7, 9 and 12-14 are allowed.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2615

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
